

GREAT MASONIC HOME.

Local Masons to Attend Cornerstone Laying at Elizabethtown.

Official representatives and other members of Masonic lodges will go to Elizabethtown, Lancaster county, on September 26, when the cornerstone of the Masonic home for indigent Masons, widows and orphans, now under construction, will be laid. The stone will be placed in a corner of the main building, for which excavations have already been made.

On the same day of the cornerstone laying the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the grand lodge of Pennsylvania will be celebrated at Philadelphia and a special train will be run to Elizabethtown, carrying the celebrators to the scene of the stone ceremonies. The new home at Elizabethtown will be the first of its kind among the Masons of the world and will be a vast improvement on the only Masonic institution of that kind in Pennsylvania, which is located in Philadelphia, but into which an indigent Mason may not be accompanied by his wife. At the Elizabethtown home provisions will be made to care for widows and orphans. Small cottages will be provided for Masons who wish to reside alone with their wives under the care of the institution. An orphan school will also be a feature of the home. The property includes 1,000 acres and is located along the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Teachers Must Attend Institute.

The new school code contains so many new features that several years will elapse before all of its provisions are fully understood and in the meantime some persons may unwittingly incur penalties that they did not know threatened them.

It has always been understood that all teachers were required to be in attendance at the county institute and receive their salaries for the time they were in attendance, but no penalty was imposed in the event of absence, except a possible reprimand from the superintendent.

But this is different now, and the delinquent will suffer pecuniary loss if he or she does not show up at the institute's first session and stay there all the time. Section 2108 of the code, provides in substance, that the school directors are required to pay from the district funds to the teachers employed in the public schools $3 per day for each day's actual attendance upon the annual teachers' institute.

Section 2110 provides that payment for such institute shall be based upon the official reports, and the teachers absenting themselves shall forfeit to the school district a sum equal to that which they would have received, the same to be deducted from their salary for the month next following.

Ineligibles For School Director.

Just at this time it is well to note those ineligible to the office of school director in townships and in boroughs.

Under a section defining the eligibles and ineligibles is this language: Any citizen of this commonwealth having a good moral character, being twenty-one years or upwards, and having been a resident of the district for at least one year prior to the date of his election shall be eligible to the office of school director therein, provided that any person holding the office of mayor, chief burgess, county commissioner, district attorney, city borough or township treasurer, city councilman, township commissioner, road supervisor, tax collector, comptroller, auditor, a constable, shall not be eligible as a school director in this commonwealth.

Frederick-Burd

Ever since the middle of last month the wedding of William Frederick, of Holton, Kansas, and Mrs. Clara Burd, of Aaronsburg, which took place at the home of Mr. Frederick's sister, Mrs. Henry C. Williams, at Mill Hall, has been kept a secret; consequently the news is a little late in being made public. In their younger days they were sweethearts, but distance separated them and both married. The groom was a widower and the bride a widow, so they began a correspondence which once more brought them together. Mrs. Frederick is the mother of Mrs. John Coldren, of Centre Hall, and up until her recent marriage was a resident of Aaronsburg. After an extended visit among friends and relatives in Central Pennsylvania, they left for their future home in Holton.

Turkey Dinner on the Park.

James Decker, the boarding house keeper on Grange Park during the Encampment and Fair, will serve a turkey dinner on Sunday. Mr. Decker will also see that none need leave the Park for boarding during the Encampment, and he will make every effort to serve his patrons in good style.

H. G. Royer a Suicide.

At the Merchant's hotel, Johnstown, H. G. Royer, formerly a resident of Miles township, committed suicide by shooting.

He was seriously afflicted with locomotor ataxia, and could find no relief. He was a native of Clinton county, a son of Henry Royer, and was sixty-four years of age.

After serving in the civil war for two years, he located in Madisonburg, where he conducted a store and later farmed. From the farm he went to Bellwood and engaged in the hotel business, and four years later, sixteen years ago, he located in Johnstown, where he associated himself with a hardware firm that proved a losing proposition.

His wife, who survives, was formerly Miss Ellen Wolfe, of Wolfs Store. He also leaves one daughter, Mrs. M. R. Foutz, of Bellwood; one sister, Mrs. Belle Johnson, of Easton; a half-brother and four half-sisters, namely: T. E. Royer, of Rebersburg; Mrs. F. Yearick and Mrs. Andrew Ocker, of Madisonburg; Mrs. Anna Brungard, of Greenburr, and Mrs. Guisewite, of Carroll. Interment was made at Bellwood.

LOCALS.

Today (Thursday) Mrs. Mary Shoop left for Harrisburg, where she will remain for a week or ten days.

The section about Lock Haven had about twice the rain fall had here during the latter part of last week.

The State College postoffice has been designated a postal savings bank. Postmaster Phil. D. Foster has been re-appointed.

Grange Park is assuming a picnic air. Workmen are daily at work making repairs on the buildings, reconstructing here and remodeling there.

Mrs. J. S. Getchell and son, Wendell, and Mrs. J. M. Bley, and daughter, Mildred, of Youngwood, are guests at the home of former sheriff Cyrus Brungart in Centre Hall.

The K. V. picnic, in Millin county, today (Thursday) will be attended by Dr. and Mrs. J. V. Foster, J. T. Potter, Misses Eloise Schuyler, Velma Simpkins, and Mary Delinda Potter.

At a depth of fifty-four feet, water was found by the drillers on the premises of Tax collector R. B. Treaster, near Centre Hill. The Krape drill was used, Constable Chas. D. Frazier, of Tusseyville, assisting in operating it.

Miss Erie Homan, of Williamsport, is being entertained by Mrs. C. D. Bartholomew, her cousin. Miss Homan is a daughter of Solomon Homan, formerly of Penns Valley, but for some years has lived in Williamsport, and is engaged as a clerk in a general store.

Miss Ella Rhone, of California, last week was the guest of her cousin, Miss Florence Rhone, in Centre Hall. She is a trained nurse, and while she counts California her home, she will remain around the scenes of her childhood until spring, and then go abroad, and on her return will again go to the Pacific coast.

Every farmer, his wife, his sons, and his daughters should make an effort to have some article of merit on exhibition at the Grange Encampment and Fair. A premium is paid for each article put on exhibition. There is no competition, but the premium is paid as soon as the article is placed in the hands of the committee. This exhibition is just what the farmer makes it; it is the farmer's show; if it is elaborate it is to his credit, if otherwise he is also responsible.

Pennsylvania State College students, those who have beards or want the fuzz removed, and as well the members of the faculty, when they return to the institution, may have the novel experience—all for ten cents—of having a winsome lass shave them. Those who have already patronized the Stephens tonsorial parlors, since the maiden calls "next," are enthusiastic over the innovation, and declare the sensation of the tucking of the towel by the Miss is so radically different from that of the male barber that no one would complain if it were jammed down full arm's length—but the soap—it is said to taste just the same.

The township schools opened on Monday for a seven months term. The names of the teachers assigned to the several schools appeared in these columns some weeks ago, the only changes made since were these: Harry C. Musser was moved from the Pine Grove school to Pottery Mills, to teach the Grammar grade; Miss Viola Harter was appointed to Pine Grove. Henry A. Detwiler, of Smulton, was elected to teach at Plum Grove to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Domer Ishler, who will teach at Rock Hill, Harris township. The schools, as is the custom, will close during the week of the Grange Encampment and Fair.

LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS.

Reporter Subscribers' Correspondent Column—New Department.

Editor of the Reporter

As we are subscribers of your paper, which, by the way, we would not be without, I will write a few lines which may be of interest to Reporter readers. On the morning of the 9th inst. my husband, daughter Edith and myself left Oak Hall Station for McConnell, Illinois. After reaching Pittsburgh we took the Pan Handle road by way of Columbus, Ohio, and landed in Chicago on scheduled time. We then went to Freeport and from there to McConnell. Owing to an electrical storm Henry Jordan, at whose place we were to stop, was unable to meet us at the station, so he had it arranged that Levi Stiffler, a former schoolmate of mine, who lives just a little way from the depot, come to receive us.

After remaining all night at the Stiffler home, cousins Henry and Perry Jordan came for us and took us to the former's home. We stayed there for ten days, every day of which it rained. Lightning did much damage by striking a number of buildings. There have also been floods during the past week.

Farmers out here are having quite a time drying their oats for threshing. All the corn I have seen while here is in very good condition. The corn is now being snapped off in order to feed the hogs which are sold much earlier than we sell ours in the east. Their method of farming here suits me very well.

On the 22nd of August we expect to hear Hon. William Jennings Bryan speak, and also attend a campmeeting at Lena. Then we will visit among relatives and friends for a few days, among whom will be my mother's only sister, Mrs. Mary Bobb, at Cedarville.

Before returning home we will stop at the following places: Orangeville, Freeport, Joliet and Manhattan. At the latter place lives an uncle, James Love, with whom some of the readers are acquainted. Two years ago he was east and attended the Love-Jordan reunion, which was held in the woods at Peru station, near Bellefonte.

I have always had the western fever. In the past six years I have been here twice, and I hope this shall not be the last time. We expect to arrive in Pennsylvania about the 12th of September.

MRS. CHARLES WHITEHILL, McConnell, Ill., Aug. 20.

Enclosed find one dollar for subscription. I would not want to do without the Reporter. Besides the local news, I always like to read the letters in the "Subscriber's Column." I am particularly interested in the letters from J. M. Stiffler, of Freeport, Illinois, who is my cousin, but whom I do not often see, and perhaps for this reason I enjoy his letters so much.

MRS. CATHARINE OBERHOLZER, Millersburg, Pa.

Smith Hosterman. Sunday night at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage, Spring Mills, Robert M. Smith, Centre Hall, and Mary C. Hosterman, Coburn, were joined in holy wedlock by the Rev. J. Max Lantz.

The contracting parties are well and favorably known. The groom by his untiring zeal and progressive efforts has made for himself a most comfortable habitat. Genial disposition and straightforward business methods have won a host of friends for him, who unite in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Smith bon voyage on the matrimonial sea.

Mrs. Smith, nee Hosterman, is a kind, christian lady who will receive the well wishes of a large following of friends.

The bridal party left Centre Hall Monday morning for points west to Columbus, returning via Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

Grand Opening.

On Saturday evening of the Grange Encampment and Fair, W. J. Anderson, of Philadelphia, will have a grand opening of the weeks performance. Doors will open at 7:30. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson come well recommended as skilled artists and managers of moving picture shows, having fifteen or more machines on the road at all times. This guarantees that the entertainments will be first class in every way, and a complete change of program at every session. On Monday and thereafter, entertainments will be given during the day and evening. The admission is but ten cents.

Excursion Rate to Encampment.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell tickets at excursion rates on all its lines in Pennsylvania, including Baltimore, Frederick, and Elmira, from September 8th to 15th going, and good to return on 18th.

Seats for Lecture Course.

The Lecture Course Committee met on Friday evening at the home of Dr. G. W. Hosterman to arrange some of the details for the lecture course during the coming winter.

Those who held course tickets last year will be given the privilege to retain their seats for the coming season, provided they forward one dollar to Secretary Rev. S. A. Snyder, on or before September 7th. Under no conditions will a request to hold a seat be recognized unless the cash accompanies it. After September 8th the chart will be open to all.

During the Grange Encampment and Fair the chart will be at the Reporter's headquarters on the Park where the secretary will have course tickets on sale.

The attractions are these: October, former Governor Robert B. Glenn, North Carolina; November, Dr. Gabriel McGuire; December, Commonwealth Male Quartette; February, Dr. Dan McGark; March, Carter's Original Carolinian Colored Jubilee Singers, seven in number—three ladies, four gentlemen.

The course tickets for the five attractions will sell for $1.00. The admissions for the lectures will remain as heretofore, namely, single reserved seats, thirty cents; general admission, twenty cents; children under fifteen years of age, ten cents. For the musicals add five cents to each of these rates.

Harvest Home Celebration.

The Grange will celebrate its Harvest Home services on Sunday, Sept. 10th, at 2:30 p. m., in the auditorium, during the Grange Encampment. The anniversary sermon will be preached by Rev. S. A. Snyder, of the Evangelical church, Centre Hall. The music will be conducted by the choir of his congregation assisted by other musicians of the town.

The public is cordially invited to join with the farmers and the Grange in celebrating this annual important thanksgiving religious event in symbolism of the "Feast of the Harvest" celebrated by the Ancient Israelites.

Lutheran Joint Council Met.

The joint council of the Centre Hall Lutheran charge, which body is comprised of the elders and deacons of the five congregations making up the charge, met in the Lutheran church, at Centre Hall, on Wednesday evening. The officials present were: T. M. Gramley, Spring Mills, president; W. H. Frantz, Centre Hall, secretary; A. E. Heckman, William Lingle, James H. McCool, John E. Rishel, George F. Emerick, D. M. McCool, Harry E. Fye, H. G. Strohmeyer, William Homan, M. B. Duck, William F. Rishel.

See that You are Registered.

To the Democratic Voters of Centre County:

The law requires the Assessors, whose duty it is to register all the votes of their respective districts, to be at the polling places on September 5th and 6th for purpose of correcting the registration list and adding any names of persons who are entitled to vote, but have not been registered heretofore. I therefore urge the Democrats of each election district of Centre County to see on the above dates that they themselves and all other Democrats of their district are registered.

Very respectfully,
A. B. KIMFORT,
Chairman.

Veterans' Picnic.

The Centre County Veteran Club will hold its annual picnic on Grange Park, Tuesday of the week of the Grange Encampment and Fair. The president of the club is Gen. James A. Beaver, who is securing speakers. The speakers already announced are Dr. Edwin Erie Sparks, president of Pennsylvania State College, and Dr. T. C. Van Tries, the latter of Bellefonte.

Needle in Body 45 Years.

The following is from the Millinburg Telegraph: While Mrs. D. Linn Ruhl, residing on the farm of Hon. James R. Ritter, near town, was engaged in milking a cow, she experienced a sharp pain in her side, and on investigation, she found a needle protruding therefrom, which she quickly pulled out. That needle she swallowed when seven years of age, forty-five years ago.

Special Term of Court.

Judge Orvis has decreed that a special term of court will be held beginning October 30th. Trial cases and arguments of attorneys will be heard.

The Pine Stump Sunday school festival, Saturday evening, was largely attended, although the weather was threatening. The net receipts were almost $12.00.

DEATHS.

Not being able to survive an operation for appendicitis which he underwent some time ago in Lock Haven Hospital, John Bathurst, Jr., aged ten years, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bathurst, at Blanchard, Tuesday, 15th inst. Three brothers, Thomas, Morris and Kern, and one sister, Mrs. Hayes Fletcher, mourn his loss with the parents. Interment was made in the Disciple cemetery.

After having been an inmate of the Bellefonte alms house for six years, Mrs. Sallie Woltz, aged eighty-four years, died from brain hemorrhages, Friday, 18th inst. Deceased was born at Pleasant Gap, but she lived in Bellefonte for quite a number of years. Two sons survive, namely, Frank Woltz, of Pittsburg, and Fred Woltz, in Ohio. Interment was made the day following her death.

At the age of fifty years, one month and five days, Mrs. Samuel Boyer died at her home in Haines township of internal cancer. Besides her husband, four sons and three daughters survive. Death took place Friday, 18th inst., and interment was made in the Lutheran cemetery at Aaronsburg, Tuesday afternoon of last week, the officiating ministers being Rev. W. J. Dice and Rev. M. D. Geesey.

While feeding the grinder with apples at a cider press in Loganton Tuesday morning of last week, Eli Garner, a veteran of the Civil War, fell from the wagon and died instantly. Heart failure is supposed to have been the cause of his demise. A widow and two daughters—Mrs. S. Mariz, of Eastville, and Mrs. Brungard, of Ellinsport—survive.

A well known resident in the person of William Reams, aged seventy-five years, died Sunday afternoon of last week. Deceased was a noted hunter and is said to have killed over four hundred deer. One brother, John Reams, of Clearfield county, survives.

Clarence Elgar, the four months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elgar T. Bechdel, of Blanchard, died on the 16th inst. from heart failure. Funeral services were held two days later and interment was made in the Baptist cemetery.

At his home in Scotia, Thomas Lear died on the 16th inst., at the age of seventy-seven years, from diseases due to old age. Deceased was an old soldier and was an early settler in the vicinity of Scotia.

Rebersburg.

Rev. Whitman and wife returned on Monday from their western trip. Irvin Schreckengast, of Tylersville, transacted business here last Friday. J. C. Auman has moved his saw mill to near Smulton, where he will operate the same.

Candidates for county offices were very plentiful at the Odd Fellows picnic on Saturday.

The potato crop in this vicinity is almost an entire failure. The tubers are small and few in a hill.

Millin Moyer and wife of Centre Hall, spent last Saturday and Sunday at this place with relatives.

Mrs. Tillman Shaffer, of Dekalb, Illinois, is at present visiting relatives in Rebersburg.

Levi Vance and wife, who spent a week visiting a friend in this vicinity, left on Tuesday for their home at State College.

Lester Minnich, of Aaronsburg, moved to this place on last Tuesday, and now occupies Prof. E. S. Stover's residence, in south Rebersburg.

Our public schools will open for the winter on Monday, with Prof. Stapleton as principal of the high school. He was superintendent of schools in Union county.

Ruben Musser and wife, formerly of this place, but now residing at Scotland, S. D., are at present visiting relatives and old acquaintances in this neighborhood.

Students who attend the Lock Haven State Normal School are always well pleased with their choice. They not only have home life surroundings and more than ordinary conveniences but they receive the personal attention of the Principal and faculty. Their health is safe guarded as well as their morals and parents can always feel that their children are well cared for at this school. The management of the school invites visits from parents and those interested in the great cause of education. Write for its catalog.

Miss Anna Spangler, of Bellefonte, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Susanna Spangler in Centre Hall.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

Mrs. J. T. Potter, last week, visited friends at Watsonstown.

Misses Esther Osman and Minnie Neidigh, of State College, visited Miss Beese Breon for several days.

George Thomas and son, Hall Columbia, of near Pleasant Gap, last week went to Rochester, New York.

In The Ladies' World for September there are a number of special contributions that at once claim the attention.

Forest Ocker, formerly of Centre Hall, and Stuart Kleckner, both residents of Millinburg, purchased the Strunk store in Millinburg.

Twenty-five firms bid for the contract to build the state road through Lewistown Narrows. The lowest bids will place the cost at something over $20,000 per mile.

Miss Flora Love came to Centre Hall last week and was the guest of Miss Eloise Schuyler. She is very much improved after having been treated at the hospital.

State Highway Commissioner Bigelow proposes that Pennsylvania shall be given sign posts of a substantial character wherever they are needed. The matter is now having his attention.

Sometime ago Clayton Maize, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Maize, of Millheim, was operated on for appendicitis at a hospital in Freeport, Illinois. From recent reports his condition is very favorable.

A. P. Luse, the senior of the firm of A. P. Luse & Son, who are conducting the Centre Hall planing mill, has been seriously ill during the past few weeks. His condition is such that his friends fear he may not recover.

Dr. McCluney Radcliffe, of Philadelphia, for a few days last week, was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. J. S. Boal. From here he went to Eagles Mere where Mrs. Radcliffe and daughter, Miss Sara, are staying for the present.

Mrs. Lydia Meyer, of Millheim, fell from a porch at her farm house in Haines township, while visiting there one day, and broke her arm. She is being cared for by Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kreamer, in Millheim, with whom she makes her home.

Purveyors of soft drinks, especially ginger ale which contains red pepper so that it will have that "bite" which many admire, had better be sure that the label contains notice to that effect, as the pure food department is after all dealers who sell such truck.

One day last week John H. McCool, of near Spring Mills, while picking pears fell a distance of about twenty-five feet when the limb upon which he was standing broke. He was badly shaken up, and while no bones were broken his condition is nevertheless serious.

Among the former residents of Centre county who were infected with the westward movement a few years ago were Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Musser and Mrs. John Hess, who are now located at Scotland, South Dakota. They are at present visiting friends and relatives in the vicinity of Millheim.

Harry A. Stover, formerly of Spring Mills, has purchased from H. E. Emery the storeroom and stone mansion, formerly known as the Mann farm house, on Main street, Yeagerstown, and has begun remodeling it. When completed, he will occupy the residence and use the storeroom for a hardware store and plumbing shop.

A teacher training class has been organized at Centre Hall and Tusseyville with Rev. S. A. Snyder as teacher. There will be from fifteen to twenty scholars in each class, made up from the several denominations. The time of meeting at Centre Hall is Wednesday evening, after the prayer-meeting hour, and at Tusseyville on Thursday evening. The text book used is "Teacher Training" by Charles Oliver, of York.

If you have not yet made up your mind as to the choice of your school for the fall term, write to the Lock Haven State Normal School for a catalog. There are still a few rooms that can be secured, although the coming year promises to be the largest in the history of this school. It has an ideal location, fine equipment, and in some respects the best Training School in the state. Its library is also one of the most attractive, is carefully catalogued and is made up of a fine collection of books. Students are taught how to use the library and when they graduate they are capable of organizing small libraries in the public schools. Its laboratories are arranged in such a way that each individual student has a table to himself. It has organized a working museum which is both attractive and useful. The fall term begins September 11th.

CENTRE HALL, PA.

THE BUSYBODY.

We shun them at every opportunity, those busybodies who pose as our friends when really they are quite the contrary, and who seem to think they are endowed by a special act of Providence with regulating the affairs of their neighbors as well as of those who would rather not be their neighbors. It is easy to comprehend how such persons earn their characterization and easier still for us to apply such a description to all those who in any way display what we may regard as an undue interest in our affairs, says the Christian News and Courier. It is possible, however, that the cap which we place so unhesitatingly upon the heads of certain persons would prove a better fit for us if we could persuade ourselves to "try it on." Unquestionably the mere suggestion to some of us that we could ever overstep the limit of our friendly interest in others is distasteful, and in many cases probably unwarranted, yet it is true that one of the distinctive characteristics of the present age, with its freedom of living and its consequent sacrifice of many of those refining and restraining influences that were so vital a part of another and more distant day, is the readiness with which we indulge our curiosity. Not satisfied nowadays with the bestowal of a confidence which is sufficient, perhaps, to pique our interest it is not unusual for some persons to solicit further details and in other ways to evince a too eager concern in the affairs of others.

Gustav Frenssens's "Klaus Hünrich Baas" reminds one of "David Copperfield" in its long deliberative unrolling of a life history up to middle age, and a little, too, in its general plan, with its unhappy love marriage followed by a more satisfactory union, says the London Times. But Frenssens plows deep in the field of moral and social problems, and his plot is convincing—we are not obliged to take the facts on the honor of the narrator. The hero is a peasant's son—a piece of tough, proud, full-blooded North German humanity. In one moment of bitter disillusionment he asks himself what his too great teachers, School and Church, had done for him except mislead him. They had given him fables, impossible idealisms, "two gospels, the gospel of the Savior and the gospel of Schiller, but of true, genuine knowledge of life not a vestige." How he gets this knowledge is the theme of the book; a fine and moving story which flows on in a broad stream of incident and character that gives a singularly powerful impression of the massiveness and variety of life.

New York is protesting against a new danger in the reckless driving of automobiles by boys and girls through the streets, and legal means are to be sought to prevent the lives of citizens being put in danger by children. The automobile, in some way, seems to be associated with disregard of the rights of pedestrians to an extent which has rendered it a menace of civilization, as well as one of its luxuries. But as far as children are concerned, they should be legally restrained from being allowed in charge of any vehicle. They are too fond of any kind of power and too irresponsible in its use—an exceedingly dangerous combination.

Now it is discovered that the famous pirate, Captain Kidd, who, according to the old song, "much wickedness he did as he sailed," was really no pirate at all, but an honest and good-tempered old sailor. But there are some cherished illusions to which the mind will always cling, and it will require more authority than is given to induce the popular imagination to accept a romantic and picturesque pirate as an uninteresting and commonplace good honest man.

Another rich American girl is to marry an English nobleman. The next generation of the British peerage will be as much American as English, if these international marriages keep on, and with such an infusion of Americanism, even the famous British conservatism and love of tradition may give way to a startling extent. But the nation seems not to care for this American danger as long as it can assimilate so much of the American coin.

A dreadnaught is a formidable object, but it affords a shining mark for a little aeroplane flitting hither and yon among the clouds. In a few years, perhaps, somebody will build an aeroplane destroyer.

From Honey Creek, Ia., comes the story that a bolt of lightning dug a well and found water after a farmer had tried in vain for years. Evidently Honey Creek is trying to compete with Winsted, Conn.

FAST TRAIN LEAPS INTO THE RIVER

Twenty-Five Dead and Sixty Are Injured.

G. A. R. MEN IN CRASH.

Train of Fourteen Coaches and Two Locomotives Jumps the Track While Approaching Bridge on the Lehigh Valley Road.

Manchester, N. Y.—Speeding eastward behind time, Lehigh Valley passenger train No. 4 ran into a broken rail on a trestle near here Friday and two day coaches from the mid-section of the train plunged downward 40 feet, striking the east embankment like a pair of projectiles.

In the awful plunge and crash at least 25 persons were killed and nearly 60 injured. The injuries of several are so serious that it is feared they will die.

The wreck was the worst in the history of the Lehigh Valley in this State and one of the most disastrous ever recorded on the system.

Was G. A. R. Train.
Crowded with passengers, many of whom were war veterans and excursionists from the Grand Army of the Republic encampment at Rochester, the train, made up of 14 cars, drawn by two big mogul engines, was 40 minutes late when it reached Rochester Junction and from there sped eastward to make up time before reaching Geneva.

The engines and two day coaches had just passed the center of a 40-foot trestle over Canandaigua Outlet, 150 yards east of the station at Manchester, at 12:35 o'clock, when the Pullman car Austin, the third of a long train, left the rails.

It dragged the dining car with it and two day coaches and two Pullmans, in this order, followed.

Ran on Ties.

All bumped over the ties a short distance when the coupling between day coach No. 237 and the rear end of the diner broke.

The forward end of the train dragged the derailed Pullman Austin and the diner over safely, after which both plunged down the south embankment and rolled over.

The free end of an ill-fated Lehigh Valley day coach, in which most of the victims were riding, shoved out over the gulch and, followed by a Grand Trunk day coach, stripped the rear guard off the south side of the trestle and plunged to the shallow river bed, more than 40 feet below.

The end of the first day coach that went over struck the east embankment of solid masonry and, with the other 60-foot car behind it, both shot against the wall with terrific force.

Passengers Buried.

Both cars were filled with passengers, in a few moments the cars lay a mass of crumpled wood, metal and glass, under which a hundred men, women and children, many of whom were killed instantly, were buried.

The greatest destruction occurred in the day coach No. 237 and a dozen persons were taken later, dead, from the second day coach, which, after following the first over the trestle, snapped its rear coupling and thus saved the rest of the train from being dragged along.

The second day coach struck on the bottom and stood end up, the rear end projecting a few feet above the top of the trestle.

All of the passengers in this car were piled in a tangled mass of broken seats at the bottom of the car.

Help Long Coming.

Indescribable pandemonium followed. The Pullman car Emelyn, which remained on the bridge with one end projecting over the gulch, and several cars behind it derailed and in immediate danger of going over on the mass of wreckage below, were soon emptied of all their passengers, who, aided by gangs of railroad employees from the big freight yards at Manchester, rushed to aid.

It was several minutes, however, before anybody reached the cars at the bottom to help the victims.

The cars did not catch fire. Axes were secured and body after body was removed and carried by the rescuers, knee deep in the creek bed, to the bank on the west side of the trestle.

There the dead and injured were laid out on the ground while planks and timber were requisitioned and a field hospital established.

Trains Bring Doctors.

It was more than an hour before many of the injured could be removed and special trains from both

Y. M. C. A. Membership.
New York.—More than half a million young men are now members of the Young Men's Christian Association—536,037 to be exact, a gain of 100,000 from the year book of North America, just received. Of these 157,850 are industrial workers and more than half take physical training in 648 gymnasiums. The net property gain for the year was $7,162,000, bringing the grand total up to $67,639,000. Throughout the continent the association employs 1,351 officers.

Miss Cleveland Engaged.
Tamsworth, N. H.—It is understood that the marriage of Miss Esther Cleveland, oldest daughter of the late ex-President, whose engagement to Randolph D. West, of New York, was announced Wednesday, will take place in October. The family say nothing about the affair. Miss Cleveland is devoted to athletics, being an enthusiastic tennis player and motorist. Mr. West is the son of a Princeton professor and has been tentative to Miss Cleveland for some time.

$400,000 in Old Postage.
Chicago.—Three hundred members of the American Philatelic Society opened their twenty-fifth annual convention here. The private stamp collections of the members are said to be valued at $3,000,000. The largest individual collection is that of George H. Worthington, of Cleveland, O., valued at $500,000. An exhibit of canceled stamps valued at $400,000 is displayed at the Art Institute. F. N. Cornwall, of St. Louis, was chosen president of the society at the annual election of officers.

Price of Beef Soars.
New York.—The wholesale prices of beef soared to a new high level in New York Tuesday. As announced at various local wholesale centers the price of ribs and loins in the best grade of beef is now 16½ cents a pound, as compared with 12 cents on January 1. It is an advance of 1½ cents since last week. Best rounds of beef are advanced to 11½ cents as compared with 9 cents at the first of the year, and a proportional increase is made in second and third grade beef.

Washington.—At the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor here it is rumored that the election of William H. Johnson, of Rock Island, Ill., as president of the International Association of Machinists, and the defeat of James O'Connell, who has held that position 18 years, is a victory for the Socialists in the labor organization of the United States who are fighting Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

THE CANNING SEASON

Geneva and Rochester brought physicians, nurses and medical supplies. Hundreds awaited treatment, and the railroad station at Manchester, a cider mill and an icehouse were used to give temporary shelter and treatment to the sufferers.

It was necessary to chop through the sides and bottom of the day coach at the bottom and the work of removing the victims moved with painful slowness.

Death had come swiftly to many, a large number of the dead having had their skulls crushed in when they were thrown against the car seats and projections.

The mortality was high among the older passengers, most of whom were veterans of the Civil War and their wives.

Twenty-Three in Morgue.
The dead removed from the wreck and brought to a morgue at Shortsville, near here, numbered 23. Two other persons died in Rochester from their injuries. Several other persons with probably mortal injuries are lying in the hospitals at Rochester, Geneva and Clifton Springs.

HARRY K. THAW NOT INSANE.
So He Declares in Answer to His Wife's Petition.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—An answer was filed here by Harry K. Thaw through his attorney, former Governor William A. Stone, to the petition of his wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, in which Judge L. L. Davis was asked to appoint a lunacy commission to take charge of the income of Thaw in this State and provide for the support of the wife. Thaw's income is said to be $60,000 a year.

Thaw claims that the verdict of the jury in New York State was not a finding that he was insane and that the decree confining him in Matteawan was a statutory only and not a proceeding as to the lunacy of Thaw. He claims that the fact that he is still confined in the Matteawan Hospital, under the order of court, does not judicially or in any way establish his present insanity. The answer alleges that the petition asks the court to do what it has no authority to do.

In the second part of the answer Thaw states: "Your affiant is not at present insane. He is quite capable of attending to his own affairs, and does attend to his own affairs. He transacts his own business. If there was ever any derangement mentally the affiant has entirely recovered from it, and is now in possession of all his mental faculties."

JOKE ENDS IN TRAGEDY.
Boy Tied to Cow By Playmates Is Dragged to Death.

Utica, N. Y.—Falling from a cow to which he had been tied by his playmates, Lewis Burns, the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Burns, was dragged by the frightened animal around a field until he was dead, according to word just received here from Pulaski. Lewis, with his two sisters, 8 and 11 years old, went out to the pasture to take turns riding a cow that long has been a pet of the family. It was a sport the youngsters had enjoyed frequently during the summer vacation. The cow was gentle and had never tried to throw or harm the children while they were driving it around the field. Laughing merrily, Lewis started off on the ride. He had not gone far when the rope began to slip. The boy tried to cling to the cow's back, but his hands slipped over its hide and he fell. This frightened the cow. It dashed off on a wild circuit of the pasture, dragging the boy along the ground. His skull was fractured, right arm and jaw broken and nearly all his clothing torn off. He was dead when picked up.

DYING FROM BLOW.
Schoolboy Received Blow Last Month in Abdomen.

Edwardsville, Ill.—Gilbert Jenkins, a 15-year-old schoolboy, who fought for the entertainment of a dozen women and several hundred men on the steamer Keystone State last month is lying in his home here of injuries received in the bout. His life is despaired of by two physicians who are attending him. Young Jenkins went on with Bobbie Brendle in a curtain-raiser. He was knocked down in the second round with a blow on the left side of the abdomen. He fell limp to the floor, and while conscious, was unable to regain his feet.

BANDITS MUST RETURN LOOT

Gen. Madero Issues Notices at Joluita—Guilty Will Be Punished.

Cuautla, Morelos, Mexico.—That Francis I. Madero's method of restoring peace is not lacking in energy was indicated Wednesday when, as a result of his visit to Joluita notices were posted stating that looters would be given just one day to return stolen property; that failure to do so would result in summary court martial and probable death sentence.

In Joluita Madero investigated the work of the mobs whose members are said to have been bandits rather than Zapatistas. Most of the larger stores have been looted. Madero assured the citizens that the guilty ones would be severely punished. General Hernandez, a former revolutionary officer, is in command of the local garrison. After conferring with Madero Hernandez announced that drastic measures would be instituted. One looter caught in the act was shot. A number are imprisoned.

At Ixtla Madero conferred with General Ambrosio Figueroa, who departed in pursuit of the bandits.

MADERO VERSUS REYES.

Former Mexican War Minister Accused of Treachery.

El Paso.—It is to be war to the finish between Francisco I. Madero and Gen. Bernardo Reyes, according to friends of Madero. They declare he gave Reyes a chance to return to Mexico and become a useful citizen, and that Reyes has been a traitor. Friends of Reyes declare that Madero is only jealous of the popularity of the former war minister. Madero has thrown the challenge to the General and accuses him of treachery and of planning to have him shot in battle, to assure the success of Reyes in the presidential election.

Returning from his trip of pacification in Morelos, where he went to urge the Zapatistas to lay down their arms, Madero says that while he cannot produce the evidence asked by President De La Barra of the treachery of Reyes, he has enough proof to satisfy himself. In the capital the people are saying that if Madero is elected President Reyes will have to leave the country again, as was the case when he became too popular for President Diaz or head a revolution against Madero for self-preservation.

MINERS HAULED THROUGH FIRE

Seven Killed and Three Mortally Hurt in Disaster.

Ely, Nev.—Of 10 men who were working at the 1,400-foot level of the new five-compartment shaft of the Giroux Consolidated Mines, when it caught fire Wednesday night, seven are dead and three lie at the point of death after passing through the flames to reach the surface.

The men on the 1,400-foot level heard a noise which they thought was caused by an explosion. They looked up and saw the shaft in flames. They at once boarded the cage and started for the surface, but encountered the flames at the 1,200-foot level and stopped.

Five men left the cage and started to walk through the 1,200-foot level to the old Alpha shaft, 700 feet away, through which they hoped to climb out of the mine.

The five remaining in the cage gave the signal to hoist and were pulled through the blazing shaft. One was dead when the top was reached and the four others were badly burned.

Rescue of the men remaining in the mine was then attempted through the Alpha shaft. At the 400-foot level one was found dead; another body was recovered at the 600-foot level; a third may lay dead at the bulkhead, but two men were not found and are still in the burning mine.

This is the same mine in which three and a half years ago two men were killed and four others entombed for 46 days on the 1,000-foot level of the Alpha shaft.

FIRE PANIC IN PICTURE THEATRE

Twenty-Five Killed and Score Injured.

FIGHT TO GAIN THE STREET.

Narrow Stairway a Horrible Death Trap—Pile of Writting Bodies—The Little Ones Are Trampled on and Suffocated.

Canonsburg, Pa.—Twenty-five persons were killed and more than 60 injured Saturday night when a moving picture film exploded in the Canonsburg Opera House.

Immediately following the flash of the film some persons shouted "Fire!" There was a rush for the exit and in a moment there was a writhing, screaming mass of humanity, 10 feet high, in the narrow stairway leading to the entrance of the theatre.

Most of the dead were smothered. A majority of the audience was composed of women and children. In the fierce rush for the exit they were thrown from their feet and trampled by men fighting their way to the streets. Others were thrown upon them, and those at the bottom of the human pile were suffocated.

When two volunteer fire departments reached the theatre the sight staggered them. Those of the audience who had escaped from the building and other spectators drawn to the scene were rushing about the front of the building. No person, it seemed, was making any effort to aid the struggling mass within the theatre.

The firemen pushed into the building and practically threw persons into the street.

As they regained their feet they ran shrieking into the streets in terror.

The fireman neared the bottom of the pile and began to bring out the unconscious forms of the injured and later came the dead.

The dead were laid tenderly in a row along the sidewalk. Relatives struggled to break past the guards and reach the victims.

Within a few moments after the film flashed and the panic started the fire whistles were blown. Practically the entire population of the town responded and packed in narrow Pike street, from which the fatal theatre entrance led. All of them were apparently terror-stricken and could give little aid. The only cool persons were the firemen and the several members of the police force.

John McCullough, operator of the moving picture machine, had just thrown the subject of the next series of pictures on the screen entitled "A Little Girl Shall Lead Them," when the film exploded and the asbestos cabinet was filled with flames. For several moments the audience, numbering upwards of 1,500 persons, was totally unaware of the accident, and the operator heroically fought down the flames and succeeded in extinguishing them.

Then, his hands burned and almost suffocated, he opened the door of the little box and staggered out. With the opening of the door a dense cloud of smoke poured into the auditorium.

At this moment some person yelled "Fire!" The spectators turned in their seats, saw the smoke, jumped to their feet and then started the awful rush for the lone doorway leading to the narrow, eight-foot stairway.

At the stairway they collided and jammed into probably 200 other persons who were awaiting the end of the performance to take the places of those who had seen the show.

Immediately the narrow stairway was packed and jammed 10 feet high with the dead and dying, the shrieking injured and the screaming unhurt, while the crowds of townspeople rushed to the scene and added confusion to the din.

The list of dead probably would have been greater but for the heroism of Miss Mary Craig, pianist at the theatre. When the cries of "fire" sounded and the rush to safety started Miss Craig began playing a slow march. Over and over she played the selection, never faltering, and many in the crowd caught the swing of the music and assisted in holding back the crowd. When the audience had swept from the building Miss Craig left uninjured.

SYNOPSIS.

Count di Rosini, the Italian ambassador, is at dinner with diplomats when a messenger summons him to the embassy, where a beautiful young woman asks for a ticket to the embassy ball. The ticket is made out in the name of Miss Isabel Thorne, chief Campbell of the secret service, and Mr. Grimm, his head detective, are warned that a plot is brewing in Washington, and Grimm goes to the state ball for information. His attention is called to Miss Isabel Thorne, who with her companion, disappears. A shot is heard and Senator Alvarez of the Mexican legation is found wounded. Grimm is assured Miss Thorne did it; he visits her, demanding knowledge of the affair, and arrests Pietro Petrosini. Miss Thorne visits an old bomb-maker, and they discuss a wonderful experiment. Fifty thousand dollars is stolen from the office of Senator Rodriguez, the minister from Venezuela, and while detectives are investigating the robbery Miss Thorne appears as a guest of the legation. Grimm accuses her of the theft; the money is restored, but a new mystery occurs in the disappearance of Monsieur Boissacur, the French ambassador. Elusive Miss Thorne reappears, bearing a letter which states that the ambassador has been kidnapped and demanding ransom. The ambassador returns and again strangely disappears. Later he is rescued from an old house in the suburbs.

CHAPTER XVI.

Letters From Jail.

For two weeks Signor Pietro Petrosini, known to the Secret Service as an unaccredited agent of the Italian government, and the self-confessed assassin of Senator Alvarez of the Mexican legation, had been taking his ease in a cell. He had been formally arraigned and committed without bail to await the result of the bullet wound which had been inflicted upon the diplomatist from Mexico at the German Embassy Ball, and since then, undisturbed and apparently careless of the outcome, he had spent his time in reading and smoking. He had answered questions with only a curt yes or no when he deigned to answer them at all; and there had been no callers or inquiries for him. He had abruptly declined a suggestion of counsel.

Twice each day, morning and night, he had asked a question of the jailer who brought his simple meals.

"How is Senator Alvarez?"

"He is still in a critical condition." The answer was always the same.

Whereupon the secret agent would return to his reading with not a shadow of uneasiness or concern on his face.

Occasionally there came a courteous little note from Miss Thorne, which he read without emotion, afterward casting them aside or tearing them up. He never answered them. And then one day there came another note which, for no apparent reason, seemed to stir him from his lethargy. Outwardly it was like all the others, but when Signor Petrosini scanned the sheet his eyes lighted strangely, and he stood staring down at it as though to hide a sudden change of expression in his face. His gaze was concentrated on two small splotches of ink where, it seemed, the pen had scratched as Miss Thorne had signed her name.

The guard stood at the barred door for a moment, then started to turn away. The prisoner stopped him with a quick gesture.

"Oh, Guard, may I have a glass of milk, please?" he asked. "No ice. I prefer it tepid."

He thrust a small coin between the bars; the guard accepted it and passed on. Then, still standing at the door, the prisoner read the note again:

"My Dear Friend:

"I understand, from an indirect source, that there has been a marked improvement in Senator Alvarez's condition, and I am hastening to send you the good news. There is every hope that within a short while, if he continues to improve, we can arrange a ball bond, and you will be free until the time of trial, anyway.

"Might it not be well for you to consult an attorney at once? Drop me a line to let me know you received this.

Sincerely,

"ISABEL THORNE."

Finally the prisoner tossed the note on a tiny table in a corner of his cell, and resumed his reading. After a time the guard returned with the milk.

"Would it be against the rules for me to write an answer to this?" queried Signor Petrosini, and he indicated the note.

"Certainly not," was the reply.

"If I might trouble you, then, for pen and ink and paper?" suggested the signor and he smiled a little. "Believe me, I would prefer to get them for myself."

"I guess that's right," the guard grinned good-naturedly.

Again he went away and the prisoner sat thoughtfully sipping the milk. He took half of it, then lighted a cigarette, puffed it once or twice and permitted the light to die. After a little there came again the clatter of the guard's feet on the cement pavement, and the writing materials were thrust through the bars.

"Thank you," said the prisoner.

The guard went on, with a nod, and a moment later the signor heard the clangor of a steel door down the corridor as it was closed and locked. He leaned forward in his chair with half-closed eyes, listening for a long time, then rose and noiselessly approached the cell door. Again he listened intently, after which he resumed his seat. He tossed away the cigarette he had and lighted a fresh one, afterward holding the note over the flame of the match. Here and there, where the paper charred in the heat, a letter or word stood out from the bare whiteness of the paper, and finally a message complete appeared between the innocuous ink-written lines. The prisoner read it greedily:

"Am I privately informed there is little chance of Alvarez's recovery. Shall I arrange escape for you, or have ambassador intercede? Would advise former, as the other might take months, and meeting to sign treaty alliance would be dangerously delayed." Signor Petrosini permitted the sputtering flame to ignite the paper, and thoughtfully watched the blaze destroy it. The last tiny scrap dropped on the floor, burned out, and he crushed the ashes under his heel. Then he began to write:

"My Dear Miss Thorne:

"Many thanks for your courteous little note. I am delighted to know of the improvement in Senator Alvarez's condition. I had hoped that my impulsive act in shooting him would not end in a tragedy. Please keep me informed of any further change in his condition. As yet I do not see the necessity of consulting an attorney, but later I may be compelled to do so.

"Respectfully,

"PIETRO PETROSINI."

This done the secret agent carefully cleaned the ink from the pen, wiping it dry with his handkerchief, then thrust it into the half empty glass of milk. The fluid clung to the steel nib thinly; he went on writing with it, between the lines of ink:

"I am in no danger. I hold credentials to United States, which, when presented, will make me responsible only to the Italian government as special cial envoy, according to international law. Arrange escape for one week from tonight; use any money necessary. Make careful arrangements for the test and signing of compact for two nights after."

Again the prisoner cleaned the steel nib, after which he put it back in the bottle of ink, leaving it there. He waved the sheet of paper back and forth to dry it, and at last scrutinized it minutely, standing under the light from the high-up window of his cell. Letter by letter the ink evaporated, leaving the sheet perfectly clean and white except for the ink-written message. This sheet he folded, placed in an envelope, and addressed.

Later the guard passed along the corridor, and Signor Petrosini thrust the letter out to him.

"Be good enough to post that, please," he requested. "It isn't sealed. I don't know if your prison rules require you to read the letters that go out. If so, read it, or have it read, then seal it."

For answer the guard dampened the flap of the envelope, sealed it, thrust it into his pocket and passed on. The secret agent sat down again, and sipped his milk meditatively.

One hour later Mr. Grimm, accompanied by Johnson, came out of a photographer's dark room in Pennsylvania Avenue with a developed negative which he sat on a rack to dry. At the end of another hour he was sitting at his desk studying, under a magnifying glass, a finished print of the negative. Word by word he was writing on a slip of paper what his magnifying glass gave him and so,

Central African Tree.

A remarkable tree has been discovered about the region of Lake Chad, Africa. Its power of increase in every way is remarkable. In a few months an extensive tract of land, we read, became an impenetrable forest. In one season it is said to grow to the height of from four to five meters; in other words, from 13 to over 16 feet.

Its foliage is said to resemble the mimosa and its branches are thorny. The wood can be cut into planks, and the natives work it up into canoes. The Tiliho mission has utilized the wood for making tables and doors.

Birds' Nest Soup.

Old books of travel represent the Asiatics as putting the nests into soups and stews. This is entirely erroneous. The birds which make these curiously enough, it came to pass that Miss Thorne and Chief Campbell of the Secret Service were reading the hidden, milk-written message at almost the identical moment.

"Johnson got Petrosini's letter from the postman," Mr. Grimm was explaining. "I opened it, photographed it, sealed it again and re-mailed it. There was not more than half an hour's delay; and Miss Thorne can not possibly know of it." He paused a moment. "It's an odd thing that writing such as that is absolutely invisible to the naked eye, and yet when photographed becomes decipherable in the negative."

"What do you make of it?" Mr. Campbell asked. The guileless blue eyes were alive with eagerness. "Well, he's right, of course, about not being in danger," said Mr. Grimm. "If he came with credentials as a special envoy this government must respect them, even if Senator Alvarez dies, and leave it to his own government to punish him. If we were officially aware that he has such credentials I doubt if we would have the right to keep him confined; we would merely have to hand him over to the Italian embassy and demand his punishment. And, of course, all that makes him more dangerous than ever."

"Yes, I know that," said the chief a little impatiently. "But who is this man?"

"Who is this man?" Mr. Grimm repeated as if surprised at the question. "I was looking for Prince Benedetto d'Abruzzi, of Italy. I have found him."

Mr. Campbell's clock-like brain ticked over the situation in detail.

"It's like this," Mr. Grimm elucidated. "He has credentials which he knows will free him if he is forced to present them, but I imagine they were given him more for protection in an emergency like this than for introducing him to our government. As the matter stands he can't afford to discover himself by using those credentials, and yet, if the Latin compact is signed, he must be free. Remember, too, that he is accredited from three countries—Italy, France and Spain." He was silent for a moment. "Naturally his escape from prison would preserve his incognito, and at the same time permit him to sign the compact."

There was silence for a long time.

"I believe the situation is without precedent," said Mr. Campbell slowly. "The special envoy of three great powers held for attempted—"

"Officially we are not aware of his purpose, or his identity," Mr. Grimm reminded him. "I" he escaped it would clarify the situation tremendously."

"If he escaped!" repeated Mr. Campbell musingly.

"But, of course, the compact would not be signed, at least in this country," Mr. Grimm went on tentatively.

Mr. Campbell gazed straight into the listless eyes of the young man for a minute or more and gradually full understanding came home to him. Finally he nodded his head.

"Use your own judgment, Mr. Grimm," he directed.

CHAPTER XVII.

A Call on the Warden.

The restful silence of night lay over the great prison. Here and there in the grim corridors a guard dozed in the glare of an electric light; and in the office, too, a desk light glimmered where the warden sat at his desk, poring over a report. Once he glanced up at the clock—it was five minutes of eleven—and then he went on with his reading.

After a little the silence was broken by the whirr of the clock and the first sharp stroke of the hour; and at just that moment the door from the street opened and a man entered. He was rather tall and slender, and a sinister black mask hid his face from the quickly raised eyes of the warden. For a bare fraction of a second the two men stared at each other, then, instinctively, the warden's right hand moved toward the open drawer of his desk where a revolver lay, and his left toward several electrically connected levers. The intruder noted both gestures, and, unarmed himself, stood silent. The warden was first to speak.

"Well, what is it?"

"You have a prisoner here, Pietro Petrosini," was the reply, in a pleasant voice. "I have come to demand his release."

The warden's right hand was raised above the desk top, and the revolver in it clicked warningly.

"You have come to demand his release, eh?" he queried. He still sat motionless, with his eyes fixed on the black mask. "How did you pass the outside guard?"

CAN'T FIND HAPPINESS

OLD MONEYBAGS IS BOTH A PLUTOCRAT AND PAUPER.

He Has Amassed Great Wealth and Lost All That Was Best in Him.

Dun and Bradstreet rate him rich. His name works magic at the bank. His check is good for millions. His vaults are stuffed with stocks and bonds. But his dollars have an actual value of five cents each.

He is bloated with riches and writhing in poverty—he's a plutocrat and a pauper at the same time.

Fate has made an ass of him—he has given him all the cash he asked for, but she omitted the formula that gives it value.

He has the lock, but he can't find the key—he doesn't know what to do with his money.

He is a lineal descendant of King Midas—he learned the golden touch, but he can't control its power. In his madness for millions he has transmuted all the realities of life into useless trash.

He placed his springtime in the minting press—he turned all his hopes and all his visions into coin—stamped all the tenderness out of his heart and milled the peace of his soul.

Year by year he went on amassing wealth and just as steadily losing all that was best in him. All that was kindly—all that was joyous—he turned to dross.

Now in his silver age he is yearning for his golden youth.

There is an ache that he doesn't understand—a hungry hole in his breast where godly heritages shriveled and died from disuse.

He can't enjoy himself—he isn't trained for the job.

His rapacity destroyed his capacity to comprehend the big message.

He owns a yacht, but it's a drifting argosy with dead sails—with all his wealth he can't make it carry him into the land of dreams.

He can't see—he can't hear—greed has dulled his eye—made him color-blind—none of the wonders of life has a meaning.

For him the mountain summits are bare—the flowers have died on the slopes and the north winds have locked the brooks and silenced the waterfall.

He is a man without illusions—a moral cripple—a Croesus starving in his treasure vaults.

When you were wrapping yourself in ideals, he was rapping our ideas.

You have only sold your services—he has put every drop of his blood into the market—and the joke of it all is that he had to wait until winter before he found that every dollar is not the same size—that its purchasing power varies with the individual.

He has overpaid. No man gets out of existence more than his legitimate allotment. If he gains in one direction, he loses a compensating something in another way.

The price of the king's crown is heavy with heartache. The meanest subject in his kingdom can marry as he wills, but the mightiest of monarchs must mate at the dictate of the state.

The embezzler defaults with property that he did not earn, but from that moment every hour of every day is haunted with the dread of detection.

The roisterer indulges himself in every whim and wilfulness, but settles the bill when his wasted vitality exposes him to disease against which the continent man has stored sufficient energy to defend himself.

Old John Moneybags has the price of every form of enjoyment, but he can't locate the trails that lead to happiness.

It isn't the size of a man's roll, but the size of a man's soul that counts.—Woman's World.

Good Luck Aligned.

A howl from the upper story brought the mother to her feet. Rude laughter intermingled with the howling and the duet threatened to become a trio, with the bucolic bread-eater trying to earn bread in his study.

"Mummy, mummy," cried Elsie, meeting her on the stairs, "please come up and spank Dick."

"What has he been doing?" asked her mother.

"We are playing at weddings," sobbed Elsie, "and Dick threw rice all over me."

"But you mustn't cry over that," soothed the fond parent. "Rice brings good luck to the bride, you know."

Little Elsie opened her eyes wide as she held out her sopping pinafore, and asked:

"What, mummy—when it's in pudding?"—Answers.

Turn About.

At Cumberland, Md., the colored servants as a rule go to their own homes at night. The cook in the family of the Episcopal clergyman not only does this, but of late has arrived at the rectory too late to cook breakfast. Hence her mistress lately told her for each breakfast missed there would be a reduction in her weekly wages. Dinah passively assented to this, but next day the mistress heard the maid next door say to her:

"Pears to me you get to work mighty late."

"I gets to work when I get ready," was the reply.

"How does you manage about de breakfast?"

"Oh, I pays de missus to cook de brekfus."—Housekeeping Magazine.

House Picnic.

The annual house picnic in honor of James Lohr and family was held on Friday, August 25th, at the home of J. F. Lutz. Although the inclement weather prevented the company from enjoying out-door pleasures, it did not detract from the ultimate enjoyment of the occasion, for the humorous recitations by Mrs. Shoop, Mrs. De- Woodie and Mrs. Whiteman, and the music on the phonograph, supplied by Ralph Henney, furnished abundant enjoyment for the company. Those present were:

Mrs. John Moore, Elsie and T. L. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. James Stahl and daughter Jennie, Miss Jennie Stahl, Mr. and Mrs. Strommeyer and daughter Bertha, Mr. and Mrs. George Brook and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lutz, Miss Annie Lohr, Mr. and Mrs. James Lohr and daughters Nellie and Mabel, Mrs. Jane Welsh, Mrs. Lucy Henney, Wilbur Henney and son Ralph, J. O. Deininger, C. F. #### Dixon Calls Halt On Spitting.

Dr. Samuel Dixon, head of the state health department, requests the authorities in the cities and towns of the state to enforce the anti-spitting law. This law prohibits spitting in public places and has been enforced in a number of towns and cities with excellent results. Spitting in public is responsible for the spread of certain diseases, therefore the health authorities are desirous of putting a stop to the filthy habit.

Prime timothy hay is ready sale in the local market at $20.00 per ton.

S. S. WORK.

Centre County Should be Listed a Front Line County at the State Convention.

Executive committee of the County Sabbath-school Association is making an effort to have Centre county listed as a "Front Line" county at the State convention to be held at New Castle, October 11, 12 and 13. To accomplish this there must be:

Cradle Rolls in at least fifty per cent of the schools;

Home Departments in at least thirty per cent of the schools; and Teacher Training Classes, that have taken at least one examination during the year, in at least twenty per cent of the schools.

There are one hundred and seventy schools in the county, which means that to be a Front Line county, Centre must have reported by October 1st:

Eighty-five Cradle Rolls, fifty-four are now reported;

Fifty-one Home Departments, eighty-two reported;

Thirty-four Teacher Training classes, nine reported.

If your Sunday-school has any of these departments and is not reported, you are requested to do so to the proper superintendent, whose name and address is given below:

Cradle Roll Superintendent, Mrs. L. W. Nutall, Philipsburg.

Home Department Superintendent, Rev. I. S. Sasseman, State College.

Teacher Training Class Superintendent, Rev. S. H. Engler, Pleasant Gap.

LOCALS.

Misses Jennie and Ruth Thomas

now occupy rooms in the Bank building, and are easily located.

L. R. Lingle, at Earlstown, very much improved the appearance of his home by adding a large porch.

Judge Harry Alvin Hall, it is presented, will preside at the special term of court scheduled to open October 30.

A number of members of the local

W. C. T. U. attended the county convention of their organization at Bellefonte on Wednesday.

The quarantine for diphtheria has been removed from the home of Rev. J. M. Rearick, at Martinsburg. Paul, the eldest son, is the only member of the family that was afflicted.

Mrs. M. J. Barger and little son Harry, of Tiffin, Ohio, were among relatives in the east, and in company with her sister, Mrs. Edward Lingle, of near Spring Mills, called on the Reporter.

A call has been extended Rev. F. W. Barry, of Bellefonte, to become pastor of the Centre Hall Lutheran charge.

The call was the united action of every member of the joint council of the charge. Rev. Barry has several calls in hand at this time and it is not known whether or not he will accept.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lohr and daughters, Misses Nellie and Mabel, of Rutledge, came to Centre Hall last week, and were guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Joseph Lutz. Mr. Lohr returned home, but the remainder of the family are visiting in Bellefonte and vicinity.

Dr. George F. Norton and family, who have been in Centre Hall for several months, on Wednesday went to Montgomery, and Saturday will go to Lakemont, on Seven Lakes, New York, where the daughters will attend the Palmer Institute. Mrs. Norton will remain there and board with the children.

Miss Margaret H. Mills, a teacher of Art, and Miss M. D. Toerner, a teacher of History in New York City schools, and her niece Kitty Toerner, and Mrs. Chas. A. Hoag and daughter Diantha, were at the Centre Hall hotel. Mrs. Hoag, who when living in Centre Hall, was known as Miss Maggie Doyle, is the wife of architect

Charles A. Hoag, who has charge of the interior decorations of the new

that Centre Hall is the loveliest summer resort they have ever found and promise to return next summer.

The personal success of those employed by the state as lecturers at

Farmers Institutes and orchard demonstrators, etc., is oftentimes questioned, and, sometimes, when definite information is obtained their home surroundings and success as agriculturists, orchardists, or as the case may be, is not at all flattering, which condition tends to detract from the effectiveness of the department under which they serve. From the standard of "from your fruits ye shall be judged," T. C. Foster, the orchard demonstrator for this district, is a credit to the division of Zoology of which Dr. H. A. Surface is the head. Mr. Foster is proprietor of the Ridge

Crest Fruit Farm at Winfield Union county. The only peaches to come to the Centre Hall station up to this date this year, came from the fruit farm named. The quality was first class—every peach perfect, and the packages were the latest approved type. Peaches in such packages could be shipped great distances without in the least bruising them. Mr. Foster takes pride in having packages contain just what they are labeled, and his shipping tag informs the consignee that "quality and grade of all products guaranteed."

Colyer.

The public school opened last Monday with fair attendance.

Mrs. Mahala Nevel returned home after spending several weeks with her son Jesse at Lewistown.

Quite a number from this place attended the business men's picnic at Hecla.

Miss Sara Horner returned here after spending some time with friends and relatives at Bellefonte.

Mrs. Orvis Horner and niece, Miss Anna Berkins, spent Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. McClellahan.

Miss Marie Kooner returned to State College after spending a week visiting friends and relatives at this place.

Mr. J. H. Moyer spent last Sunday at Centre Mills as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cummings.

Miss Mae Kooner left Monday for Montandon where she expects to spend some time at the home of her uncle, James Kooner.

A. B. Lee, of Tusseyville, attended the Old Fellow's picnic at Rebersburg last Saturday, and was called on to speak, which he did.

Mr. and Mrs. William Moyer and family, and Charles Fye, accompanied Mrs. Dietz and children at State College, last Saturday, after having spent a few weeks at the Moyer home.

Spring Mills.

Mrs. Jess Long is very ill.

G. C. King and wife are attending the Williams Grove picnic.

On account of the rain on Thursday, the Masonic picnic was held at the residence of H. F. Roseman.

John McCool, Sr., fell from a pear tree while picking pears and sustained painful but not serious injuries.

Robert and Anna Grenoble, of Yesgertown, who have been visiting friends and relatives in this place, left on Monday for State College where they will visit relatives before returning home.

G. H. Long and family, of New Ark, Ohio; F. A. Long and family, of Cambridge, Ohio; P. P. Long and family, of Uniontown, who spent ten days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Long, left for their homes on Monday morning.

Miss Beulah Fortney is visiting relatives in Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ziegler of Wolfe Store spent Sunday at Boalsburg.

Griffith Lytle and son John, of Kansas, spent Sunday at Boalsburg.

Miss Maude Frink of Los Angeles Cal. visited in Boalsburg last week.

Rev. J. I. Stonecypher with his family are visiting with relatives at Montoursville.

Harvest Home service will be held in the Lutheran church next Sunday at the morning hour.

Mrs. Cora Peters, of Oak Hall, with her little daughter, spent last Wednesday in Boalsburg.

Mrs. Henrietta Dale and daughter Miss Anna are visiting with relatives in Altoona.

Mrs. Ezra Breon, of Philadelphia is spending some time with her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Lee.

Mrs. Andrew Kreamer with her daughter Agnes is visiting at the home of her sister Mrs. E. R. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Goheen enjoyed a trip to Philadelphia, Atlantic City and Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. William McWilliams and Belle Goheen, of Rock Springs, visited relatives at Boalsburg last week.

A. E. Gingerich and Miss Frances Patterson enjoyed a trip to Altoona with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wagner in their automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Meyer and children departed on Wednesday morning for a ten days visit at Niagara Falls and other places.

John Woods, Jr., and family have this season picked 1069 quarts of huckleberries. Mr. Woods and one of the boys picked 121 quarts in one day.

Mrs. Ellen Calvert and daughter Miss Margaret of Altoona spent a few days with Misses Mary Reish and Nora Miller.

Rev. S. C. Stover with his wife and son Elwood attended the masonic picnic at Spring Mills, last Thursday and enjoyed a visit to his former home near there.

Mrs. Amanda Mothersbaugh, of Allegheny, and sister Mrs. Sara Hartwick, of Altoona, were visitors at the home of their brother, L. Mothersbaugh.

Rachael Musser Frederick, wife of Henry Frederick, died at her home in Boalsburg, Wednesday noon. Interment Saturday 9:30 a. m. Further mention next week.

Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs and daughter Miss Margaret, of Centre Hall, spent a few days at Boalsburg where they attended the reception at the Stuart home. Among the guests from a distance who were present at the reception given to Mr. and Mrs. George Stuart, were Mrs. Carlton Read, of Huntingdon; Mrs. G. C. Hall, of Wilmington, Delaware; Mrs. William Stuart, of Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bateman, of Tyrone; D. K. Mothersbaugh, of Williamsport; and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Stuart, of Bellevue.

In 1862, David Wolf, then a resident of Brush Valley, enlisted as a member of Company D, 148th Regiment, in Centre Hall, the captain of which company was Mr. Musser, and Rev. Edmunds, of Aaronburg, was chaplain. He was seriously wounded in the battle at Chancellorsville, and for two years was in a hospital. Although seventy-two years of age, the writer ventures to say that he was the spryest of the spry at the reunion of the 148th Regiment, at Bellefonte.

Mr. Wolf now lives at Monroe, Wisconsin, and accompanied by his son, Oscar Wolf, of Orangeville, Ill., came east a short time ago, this being the former's first return in twenty years, and it is double that time since he left Pennsylvania. While in Pennsylvania they spent a part of the time with friends and relatives in Boalsburg, these being Michael Segner, Ira Rishel, Mrs. Frank Tharpe, and Mrs. Harry Ishler. Since his last visit here Mr. Wolf's father and sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Gettig and Mrs. Malinda Rishel have died. The huckleberry, so plentiful this year, was so often spoken of in his Wisconsin home that to dispel any doubt of the deserving praise given them as the most luscious berry in the east, a bushel of them was expressed to the folks at home. The junior Mr. Wolf is a farmer, and being located in a district where cheese factories abound, he naturally takes to Holstein cattle, some of which are highly prized animals. A particular cow yielded from seventy-five to ninety pounds of milk per day. A cow maintaining the latter standard would be worth fully $500. From Boalsburg Messrs. Wolf went to Lemont and then to Pleasant Gap, returning to their home on Monday. And this about a former Centre countian and his son who are most interesting characters.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is preparing to build a cement walk from the station to join that of Mrs. Mary Odenkirk. When completed that section will be very much improved.

Sunday morning of last week an infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ertle, died at their home near Madisonburg. The next day funeral services were held and interment was made in the Reformed cemetery at Madisonburg.

LOCALS.

A cement walk will be laid by Mrs. Mary A. Ross.

Dr. G. H. and Mrs. Widder, accompanied by their son George, of Harrisburg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Arney west of Centre Hall.

Mrs. Widder also visited her sister, Mrs. Homer O. Barr, at Boalsburg.

The Old Fort hotel will, as in the past serve a turkey dinner on Sunday, September 10th, the week of the Grange Encampment and Fair. Everybody knows the reputation of the Old Fort hotel when it comes to dinners.

An ordinary case of diarrhoea can, as a rule, be cured by a single dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This remedy has no superior for bowel complaints. For sale by all dealers.

Due Precautions.

In a town in Georgia there was an old preacher whose knowledge of the world was not wide nor deep, but who conceived it to be a place where, if one should trust his fellow men, he should at the same time keep an eye on his own interests.

One hot day he pulled off his coat and preached a vigorous sermon under the pines in his shirt sleeves. At the close of the open air service one of his admirers approached him and said regretfully:

"I don't suppose you knew that the editor of one of the big New York Sunday papers was here when you pulled off your coat."

"I reckon I knew it well, for I'd been told of it," said the preacher calmly. "I don't believe he's as bad as he might be, and anyway I put my coat on the chair close by and had it right under my eye all the time."—Youth's Companion.

More Story of the Flood.

The legend of the flood as told by the Moros is as follows:

"When the forty days and nights of rain came No and his family got into a box. One pair of each sort of bird and beast also came in. Men who were busy with their ordinary occupations and did not enter the box were overtaken by the flood. Those who ran to the mountains became monkeys; those who ran to the water, fish. The Chinaman changed to a hornbill. A woman who was eating the fruit of a seaweed and would not stop was changed into a fish called a dugong, and her limbs can still be seen under its skin."

Mara's Voice.

Mme. Mara had a voice that extended from middle G to E in alt and was one of the most facile and flexible ever known. She delighted in the florid music of Hasse, Graun, Benda, Jomelli, Pergalese, Porpora, Sacchini and others of that school and with the utmost ease executed passages that are now consigned to solo instruments, such as the violin and flute. She held the stage from 1771 to 1802, with an occasional appearance after the latter date.

His Bedtime.

"When do you wind your watch," asked the man with the bulging brow, "morning or evening?"

"Generally in the morning," answered the man with the bulbous nose.

"I always wind mine just before I go to bed."

"Well—er—so do I."—Chicago Tribune.

What She Would Do.

"Johnnie, dear," said his mother, who was trying to inculcate a lesson in industry, "what do you suppose mamma would do for you if you should come to her some day and tell her that you loved your studies?"

"Lick me for telling a falsehood," said dear little Johnnie with the frankness of youth.

A Quick Return Business.

"You said you were going into some business that would bring you quick returns," said a young fellow to his chum.

"I did," was the answer. "I am sending manuscripts to the magazines."

Columns of St. Mark.

Two memorable granite columns, known as the columns of St. Mark, brought from the Holy Land in 1120 and standing in front of the quay and landing steps of the Piazzetta, have been associated with the fortunes of Venice for many years. At first they lay prostrate for a long time, while no one would undertake to raise them. But a reward offered by the doge at length induced one Nicolò Barrattiero (Nick the Blackleg) to offer his services. He succeeded and claimed as his reward the privilege of carrying on between the columns games of chance, elsewhere prohibited by law. To neutralize this as much as possible it was enacted that all public executions should take place on the same spot. One column is surmounted by the Lion of St. Mark. The other carries a fine figure of St. Theodore, the patron saint of the city, who stands upon a crocodile and with sword and buckler gives token that the motto of Venice is "Defense, Not Defiance."

We ought to know you; we have placemen and gadders whose business is only to sell our articles. Our business is diffused till some Brazilian villages; where the American articles are worth of the highest attention. Our mind is that, the diffuse of the news is the best middle for the know; all things; and we don't stop in middles for its circulation; we have decided the appear of The Commercial Review next issue where you can be fellow labourers; and we with no one expenditur; that is; to say always; you dispense us any cassines."

Tricking a Game Warden.

When a game warden bought seven pounds of meat and paid a dollar a pound for it he thought he was getting some pretty convincing evidence against a man in Herkimer county whom he supposed to be a chronic violator of the game law. The protector found this particular piece of meat in an icehouse one hot August day, and he spotted it for venison.

"What will you take for that chunk of meat?" he asked the owner.

"That's a tender piece of meat," replied the woodsman, with a wink at the stranger, "and meat is dear way back up here. I wouldn't part with it for less 'n a dollar a pound."

"Well, give me a pound."

"Nope; couldn't do that. It would split the piece for cookin' to do that."

The game warden had to take the whole thing, and he paid $7 for it, satisfied that he had caught one of the worst game law violators in the Adirondacks. Down to Albany he sent the meat for the forest, fish and game commission to analyze to prove it venison. But it wasn't. It was veal.

The backwoodsman tell the story as one of the best jokes ever played on a game protector.—New York Tribune.

THERE IS NO PLOW SUPERIOR TO THE SYRACUSE RIDING PLOW

It plows the same depth the whole day long; sticks to the ground in stormy soil; can be well handled on rocky hillsides. It leaves no dead furrows to wash; will throw the soil up hill better than any other plow made; it is strong enough to do its work, yet not clumsy. It is made for two or three horses.

MUNYON'S WORK TALK OF CITY

Big Success Shown by Numbers of Callers at Philadelphia
Headquarters.

LOCAL MAN TELLS OF REMARKABLE RELIEF FROM RHEUMATISM IN YEAR'S TIME.

The apparent success with which Professor James M. Munyon, the world-famous health authority, has been meeting his task of curing the most distressing of diseases, has been the subject of much discussion. Every street car brings dozens of callers to his headquarters at 533 and Jefferson Streets, Philadelphia, Pa., and every mail brings thousands of letters from people inquiring about Munyon's Famous Health Cure. Professor Munyon's corps of expert physicians is kept busy seeing callers and answering the mail. Peculiar to say, these physicians prescribe no medicine at all for 50 per cent of the callers and mail inquiries; health hints, health advice and rules for right living are given absolutely free. Medical advice and consultation absolutely free.

Munyon's followers seem to be enormous. Those who believe in his theories seem to think he possesses the most marvelous powers for the healing of all sorts of diseases. Munyon, himself, laughs at this. He says: "The hundreds of cures which you are hearing about every day in Philadelphia are not in any way due to my personal skill, but to the remedies, which represent the combined brains of the greatest medical specialists science has ever known, that are doing the work. I have paid thousands of dollars for a single formula, and the exclusive right to manufacture it. I have paid tens of thousands of dollars for others of my various forms of treatment. This is why I get such remarkable results. I have simply bought the best products of the best brains in the world and placed this knowledge within the reach of the general public."

Among Munyon's callers yesterday were many who were enthusiastic in their praise of the man. One of these said: "For six years I suffered with rheumatism. My arms and legs were afflicted so badly that I could hardly work, and I could not raise my arms to my head. The pain was most severe in the back, however, and I was in perfect torture. I tried in many ways to get cured, or even to secure temporary relief, but nothing seemed to help me until I was persuaded by a friend to try Dr. Munyon's Uric Acid Course. It was the most marvellously acting remedy I ever saw, within a week the pain had most gone and inside of a month I considered myself entirely cured. I have now gone out in the worst weather—cold, wet or anything else, and I have not felt any suspicion of a return of the disease. I think that every person who has rheumatism and does not take the Uric Acid Course is making a great mistake."

The continuous stream of callers and mail that comes to Professor James M. Munyon at his headquarters at 533 and Jefferson Streets, Philadelphia, Pa., keeps Dr. Munyon and his enormous corps of expert physicians busy.

Write today to Professor James M. Munyon personally. Munyon's Laboratories, 533 and Jefferson Sts., Philadelphia, Pa. Give full particulars in reference to your case. Your inquiry will be held strictly confidential and answered in a plain envelope. You will be given the best medical advice, and asked more questions. Remember there is no charge of any kind for consultation, or medical advice. The only charge Munyon makes is, when his physicians prescribe his remedies you pay the retail price. It is immaterial whether you buy from him or from the nearest druggist.

Cautious Supervision.
"I'm afraid my son is going to be complicated," said the new teacher.

"In what way?"
"Mrs. Cumrox was looking through the text book on arithmetic and it occurred to her to suggest that I refrain from teaching her daughter any examples in improper fractions."

Important to Mothers.
Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher In Use For Over 30 Years.

His Inspiration.
Wagner told where he got his inspiration. "It was from the garbage cans being emptied at night," he confessed.

For HEADACHE—HICKS' CAPSICUM.
Whether from Cold, Heat, Stomach or Nervous Troubles, Capsicum will relieve you. It's liquid-pleasant to take—acts immediately. Try it. 10c, 25c, and 50 cents at drug stores.

The only way in which a man can have the last word with a woman is to say it over the phone, and then hang up.

The next time you feel that swallowing sensation gargle Hamlin's Wizard Oil immediately with three parts water. It will save you days and perhaps weeks of misery from sore throat.

Many a man doesn't realize that he married an angel until she begins to do the harp act.

Particularly the Ladies.
Not only pleasant and refreshing to the taste, but gently cleansing and sweetening to the system, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is particularly adapted to ladies and children, and beneficial in all cases in which a wholesome, strengthening and effective laxative should be used. It is perfectly safe at all times and dispels colds, headaches and the pains caused by indigestion and constipation so promptly and effectively that it is the one perfect family laxative which gives satisfaction to all and is recommended by millions of families who have used it and who have personal knowledge of its excellence.

Its wonderful popularity, however, has led unscrupulous dealers to offer imitations which act unsatisfactorily. Therefore, when buying, to get its beneficial effects, always note the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package of the genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

For sale by all leading druggists. Price 50 cents per bottle.

THE NEWS OF PENNSYLVANIA

Hazleton.—H. M. Heller and Miss Grace Sickles, of Fern Glen, enjoyed the distinction of having been married before the largest crowd ever assembled in Luzerne county for the purpose of witnessing a nuptial ceremony. Fifteen thousand persons paid admission to the Board of Trade building to witness it. The bridegroom is twenty-six years of age, and a miner, while the bride, a miner's daughter, is 22 years old. Rev. S. E. Stoflett, pastor of Emmanuel's Reformed Church, performed the ceremony, while Judges George R. Ferris and Benjamin Jones, of Luzerne county, and a score of aspirants for judgeships and offices of the coming primaries, stood in the vast audience. Hundreds of dollars' worth of presents were showered upon the couple.

Tamaqua.—The annual convention of Sub-District No. 1, of District 7, United Mine Workers of America, was held at Lansford, the body going on record as being opposed to a renewal of the present agreement unless the officers of the union have the right to defend the men and take up grievances with the operators direct. Other resolutions adopted were: Checkoff system, eight-hour work day; increase of wages—30 per cent for out side and 20 per cent for inside men. The officers elected are as follows: President, C. C. Bonner, Tamaqua; vice-president, Mike Sedlik, Lansford; secretary-treasurer, Ned Evans, of Lansford. This district is one of the best organized in the hard coal fields.

Allentown.—Joseph R. Kistler, of Allentown, a sink digging contractor, sixty-six years of age, was killed at Emaus. With his helper, Francis Kromer, he was digging a sink. They had gone down thirty-five feet and started walling up. As Kromer was about to let down the bucket of bricks the rope broke and the heavy bucket fell on Kistler's head, instantly crushing out his life. M. P. Reinhard was lowered by means of the windless and tied a rope around the body to bring it to the top. Kromer three weeks ago told Kistler the rope had a weak spot, but after examining it Kistler said it would be serviceable for some time.

Pittsburg.—Friends of R. M. Gulick, owner of the Lyceum Theater here, have taken steps to have his body exhumed, in order that they may know the cause of his death. Gulick, who was one of the most prominent theatrical managers in country, died here August 13 and was buried in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y. It was announced that death was caused by Bright's disease. It has been discovered that Gulick left a will other than the one in which he gave his son, James Gulick, $100, and the remainder of his $200,000 estate to his housekeeper, Mrs. Flo Housewright.

Erie.—Five highwaymen, at least two of whom are believed to be members of the gang which held up the Philadelphia and Erie express at Five Mile Curve, near Erie, the night of June 30, robbed H. L. Steadman, of Buffalo; Charles Shriver, of Cleveland, and Ben Gottlieb and Joseph Malthawk, of this city, in the yards of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad here. Steadman attempted to escape and was seriously wounded. The highwaymen, after taking all the money their victims had, compelled them to exchange clothes with them.

South Bethlehem.—Miss May Brennan, a member of Allentown's younger society set, and Roque G. Munoz, of Tegucigalpa, Honduras, a graduate of Lehigh University, were married in the church of the Holy Infancy here, by Rev. J. C. Phelan. After a wedding trip to Southern points, the couple will leave for Mr. Munoz's home, where he will follow his calling of civil engineer.

Reading.—At a missionary service in the followers of Christ Church, Rev. M. R. Lengel scored hobble skirts and merry widow hats. He said: "I am not a preacher to stand here and criticize your clothing for I don't care what you wear. If you feel disposed to wear hobble skirts and merry widow hats, that is your business, but I am afraid that those of you who wear them are not very churchy."

Reading.—One person was killed and another injured in a grade crossing accident on the Reading road at Douglass while a milk team, occupied by Davis Fetzer and his ten-year-old son, Lester, was driving over the railroad, an engine ran into the team. The boy was killed and his father hurled some distance and badly hurt.

Reading.—Mrs. Ralph M. Mancus, aged 22 years, died from burns received in attempting to build a fire in the kitchen range and to accelerate the burning she poured on a quantity of kerosene. In a moment the flames dashed up, setting her clothing ablaze. Help did not arrive until all of her clothing was burned from her body.

Waynesburg.—George M. Stoops, who for the last eighteen years had written a letter every Friday to his aged parents, at Kirby, this county, is dead here.

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

Information and Gossip at Harrisburg.

Grand Jury Inquiry.
The Attorney General's Department has suggested to the county authorities now engaged in the inquiry into the lynching of Zack Walker at Coatesville on August 13, that the Chester County Grand Jury be instructed to make the investigation. Messages to this effect are understood to have been sent from the Capitol to the officials engaged in the investigation, and they will likely take up the matter with the Judges of Chester County. The Judges have authority to order the Grand Jury to make a presentment of the case, and to do so that body may summon all of the citizens of the town before it. This method of getting information is considered by some State officials as a better means than the wholesale arresting of people because they were in the mob, with the hope of obtaining the names of ringleaders from them. The District Attorney would thus have opportunity to examine people under oath and could call upon the Attorney General to assist in the examination if he desired.

Convention in Sign Language.
A convention which in its proceedings surpassed any gathering held in this city in decades, was held here by the Pennsylvania Society for the Advancement of the Deaf. About fifty delegates, most of whom are graduates of the State and other deaf and mute institutions, were in attendance. All the addresses, discussions, prayers and reports were offered in the sign language. A. U. Downing, of the Western Pennsylvania Deaf and Mute Institute faculty, acted as interpreter for the reporters. The principal address of the convention was delivered by the president, James S. Reider, Philadelphia; C. O. Dentzer, pastor of All Souls Church, Philadelphia; Rev. B. R. Ailbaugh, Wilkinsburg, and Rev. F. C. Smiley, of Williamsport. During the convention subscriptions to the society's home at Doylestown were raised and an effort made to establish a $50,000 endowment fund.

Permit to Build New Bridges.
The State Water Supply Commission announced that it had approved the application of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for the construction of two bridges and for extension of banks along four streams in the State, the operations covering the largest submitted to the commission by any one company in many months. The bridges will span the Susquehanna River near Montgomery, Lycoming County, where a sixteen-span bridge will be built, and the Schuylkill near Douglassville. The extensions will be along the Allegheny in Warren County and along the Kiskiminetas in Westmoreland County. The company's application to construct a new bridge over the Schuylkill at Royersford was held under advisement as were the Clarion River Water Company charters.

Women For School Directors.
Names of the two women whose nomination and election as school directors will be urged by the Civic Club of Harrisburg were announced, after an extended session of the club behind closed doors. The names will be sent to the chairmen of the various city committees, who will be asked to work for their election regardless of politics. The selections are Mrs. Thomas M. Jones, who has been active in educational and literary work, and Mrs. Frederick L. Morgenthaler, who has been prominent in movements for school improvement.

To Build State Road.
Thirteen firms bid for the construction of the first section of a main highway to be built under the Spruill highway law when Highway Commissioner E. M. Bigelow opened bids for the building of eleven miles of road through the Lewistown "narrows" between Lewistown and Mifflin. The contract will be awarded Wednesday. The road will be paid for entirely by the State.

Blight in Three More Counties.
Reports received by the Chestnut Tree Blight Commission indicate that the tree pest has made its appearance in three more counties this month, having been found in South Center, Adams and Snyder Counties. These counties will be included in the campaign to exterminate the pest which will be directed from Philadelphia.

Water Charters Approved.
The State Water Supply Commission has approved charters for the Lehigh Heights Water Company, Middletown Township, Delaware County, and Hop Bottom Water Company, Hop Bottom, Susquehanna County.

Trolley Charter Granted.
A charter was granted to the Lebanon & Cambelltown Street Railway Company to construct a ten-mile trolley line in Lebanon County. The capital is $60,000 and M. S. Hershey is president.

COMMERCIAL

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

Bradstreet's says:
"The improvement which is generally conceded to have occurred in the later planted Western crops and particularly corn, since the first of the month, the advance of the season of fall jobbing activity and the consequent presence in the leading markets of fall buyers is all reflected in a further slight improvement in the wholesale trade this week. The gains made are moderate, however, and the tendency to operate cautiously pending clearer views of crop output and of possible tariff revision is as marked as heretofore. In the case of the wool tariff revision, the disapproval by the Executive of the measure has apparently brought out more confident buying of goods and of raw material with some hardening of values."

"Business failures in the United States for the week ending August 17 were 215, against 208 last week, 222 in the like week of 1910, 183 in 1909, 236 in 1908 and 155 in 1907."

"Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week aggregate 3,507,365 bushels, against 2,560,967 last week and 1,497,514 this week last year. Corn exports for the week are 298,531 bushels, against 635,781 last week and 48,537 in 1910."

WORLD FAMOUS SCIENTIST
PRAISES DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Guido Blenio, who was awarded a gold medal at the International Exposition, Turin, Italy, in 1909, in competition with 142 chemical experts from all over the world was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills and strongly recommends them. When visited by our representative at his New York office, Mr. Blenio said: "I did not realize what a hold Kidney trouble had on me until I applied for life insurance. The doctor refused to pass me and advised me to take treatment at once. I had heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. I improved rapidly and in a short time had no symptom of kidney disease remaining. I again applied for insurance and this time was promptly accepted."

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organs, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits.

It Makes Weak Women Strong. It Makes Sick Women Well. Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this new-secret remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and not a grain of habit-forming or injurious drugs. Is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

LOCALS.

Miss Mary Lytle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lytle, who formerly lived at Earlstown, was the guest of Miss Helen Luse.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Sankey, of near Millheim, yesterday (Wednesday) started on a trip to Niagara Falls, and will also spend sometime at the Toronto fair.

Tuesday D. A. Boozer went to New York state to secure a man to operate the Coburn end of the business conducted by the Centre Hall Evaporating Company.

After spending a few weeks at her old home in Centre Hall, Miss Tracy Kreamer returned to Johnstown, where she has been staying with her sister, Mrs. S. H. Heckman, and has employment in a millinery store.

Albert W. Potter, Esq., of Selinsgrove, one of Snyder county's prominent attorneys, and candidate for president judge of the Union-Snyder judicial district, died last week. He was sixty-four years and seven months of age.

John E. Bubb, the senior of the lumber firm of Bubb & Son, doing business in the vicinity of Colyer, purchased a tract of timber land from William Mitterling, containing eleven acres. The tract lies near that of Cyrus Brungart's, and $90 was paid for it.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Goodling, of York, last week, were guests at the home of W. B. Mingle, Esq., in Centre Hall. For eighteen years Mr. Goodling has been employed in one of the York factories. His father, Rev. C. H. Goodling, was pastor of the Centre Hall Evangelical church, having come here about nineteen years ago. Rev. Goodling is now also living in York.

Tenants are beginning to sign agreements or leases for farms to become effective April 1st, next. John E. Rishel, who for a number of years has lived on the Kauffman farm, which is now owned by the Groves, located east of Centre Hall, has leased the Fleisher homestead, near Tusseyville, now occupied by Mrs. Tillman Klinefelter. Roy Shaffer, who last year moved from the Brishin & Company farm, along Indian Lane, to the farm of James H. McCool, also near Tusseyville, will become tenant on the farm of Cyrus Brungart, a short distance farther south.

Taking advantage of five minutes absence of Theodore F. Brown, night clerk and ticket agent at the Milton station on the Pennsy shortly before 4 o'clock one morning last week two men, who had been loitering around the station during the night, forced open the door to the ticket office, opened the money drawer, and made a quick get away with $33 in bills and silver. In so much of a hurry were they that they failed to take about $2 in smaller change that was lying in another compartment of the drawer. Several suspects have been arrested. Mr. Brown is a native of Spring Mills.

The Long brothers, sons of John D. Long, of Spring Mills, returned to their respective homes on Monday, traveling in auto cars, their families being with them. G. Harry Long is located at Newark, Ohio, and is operating four stores—a department store and furniture store, at two locations, in Newark; a furniture store at Cambridge and another at Utica, and also has other interests. F. A. Long is conducting a department store at Cambridge, Ohio, and is doing a large business there. At Uniontown, this state, is where Philip P. Long has cast his lot. He has a department store there, and is now just about to open the "Acme" 5 & 10c grocery store, an altogether new idea. It is not detracting from the success of the Ohioans to say that the Pennsylvanian is probably overreaching them in point of income. This is due to some extent to the falling into the good graces of a Mr. Thompson, a philanthropic gentleman and citizen of Uniontown, whose advice in the way of buying real estate was accepted by Mr. Long. The result is he is the owner of some very valuable coal lands that were bought at a price very much below their present actual value. The Longs, as everyone who knows them will agree, are not idlers, but are always after business. Their success in business has not been a matter of luck, but pluck.

Aaronsburg.

Mrs. S. Peck spent a few days at the home of E. G. Mingle.

E. G. Mingle took S. M. Weaver to Hublersburg on Sunday.

William Mingle returned home after an absence of a few months stay at Akron, Ohio.

James Holloway and wife have gone to visit friends living in Ohio, Illinois, and other western states.

Ex-Sheriff Condo, of York, spent a few days with his son-in-law, Dr. John Bowersox.

T. C. Weaver left on Monday morning for South Fork where he is employed at plastering.

After having spent a few weeks with their many friends, James Breen and wife returned to their home in Pence, Indiana.

Kingsley's Stammering.

Charles Kingsley loved talking, had an enormous deal to say on every conceivable subject and longed to say it. But his stammer was always checking him. He gurgled and gasped and made faces and would sometimes break off in a conversation or a meal, rush out into the open air and liberate his suppressed emotions by rapid exercise or physical exertion. Yet, as has often been observed in similar cases, when he had to preach the stammer subsided, and, though there was some facial contortion, the flow of the discourse was never interrupted. He said to his friend Tom Hughes: "I could be as great a talker as any man in England but for my stammering. When I am speaking for God in the pulpit or paying by bed-sides I never stammer. My stammer is a blessed thing for me. It keeps me from talking in company and from going out as much as I should do but for it."—C. W. E. Russell in Winchester Guardian.

Lisbon in Pepys's Times.

Pepys's Diary gives an unflattering picture of the Lisbon court in his day. On Oct. 17, 1661, he talked with Captain Lambert, fresh from "Portugall," who told him it was "a very poor, dirty place—I mean the city and court of Lisbon; * * * that there are no glass windows, nor will they have any; * * * that the king has his meat sent up by a dozen of lazy guards and in pipkins sometimes to his own table and sometimes nothing but fruits and now and then half a hen. And now that the infants is become our queen she is come to have a whole hen or goose to her table, which is not ordinary." Some few months later, when some "Portugall lady" had come to London, Pepys found them "not handsome and their farthingales a strange dress. * * * I find nothing in them that is pleasing, and I see they have learnt to kiss and look freely up and down already and I do believe will soon forget the reclusive practice of their own country."

Opportunity.

There is a story of a sculptor who once showed a visitor his studio, which was full of gods, some of them very curious. The face of one was entirely concealed by the hair, and there were wings on each foot. The visitor asked this statue's name.

"Opportunity," was the reply. "And why is his face hidden?"

"Because men seldom know him when he comes to them."

"Why has he wings on his feet?"

"Because he is soon gone and once gone can never be overtaken," was the reply.

We all know the story of the man who sold the old farm which he had barely been able to get a living from during his entire life and his amazement and chagrin when the new owner discovered gold upon the land the first week of his ownership. A great many of us are in that very condition with regard to our opportunities if we did but know it.—Washington Star.

Pampered Pups.

The dog doctor was making out a bill for the month's expenses of a Japanese spaniel. The items were room rent, board, medical attendance and electric light.

"Electric light?" exclaimed his secretary. "What on earth does a dog need with electric light?"

"He doesn't need it at all," said the doctor, "but his owner has ordered it, and he has been supplied with two eight-candle power lights every evening he has been in the hospital. He is one of those spoiled pups who were put to bed in a light room in their infancy, and now he cannot sleep in the dark. We always have two or three of that kind on hand. They occupy a special ward where the lights burn all night long."—New York Sun.

Collar as a Verb.

The verb "collar" has long been used transitively, meaning to "seize or take hold of a person by the collar; more loosely, to capture." The verb was thus employed early in the seventeenth century. Steele in the Guardian, No. 84, wrote, "If you advised him not to collar any man." Other instances are Gentleman's Magazine, 1762, "His lordship collared the footman who threw it," and Marryat's sentence in "Peter Simple," "He was collared by two French soldiers."

A Tenant For Life.

"Have you boarded long at this house?" inquired the new boarder of the sour, dejected man sitting next to him.

"About ten years."

"I don't see how you can stand it. Why haven't you left long ago?"

"No other place to go," said the other dismally. "The landlady's my wife."

The Family Scrap Book.

Mrs. Sauers (to Willy as minister calls to see Mr. Sauers)—Willy, is your father in? Willy—Yes; he's upstairs looking over your scrap book. Mrs. Sauers (puzzled)—You mean my family account book? Willy—Well, it's all the same. He and you always have a scrap every time he goes over it.

"Portrait of a Gentleman."

The Professor—Can you define a gentleman, Miss Cutting? The Suffragette (dilly)—Certainly. A gentleman was contemporaneous with the old masters, who often painted his portrait.—Exchange.

Suited His Temperament.

"Grooge is a very grouchy sort of man, isn't he?"

"Yes. Won't even ride in anything but a sulky."—Baltimore American.

Seek knowledge as if thou wert to be here forever.—Herder.

Seemed to Give Him a New Stomach.

"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M. Youngpeters, Editor of The Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfectly good health." For sale by all dealers.

NEW ECZEMA CURE.

Antiseptic Remedy that Cures Worst Cases in Short Time.

The many sufferers from eczema in Centre Hall and vicinity will welcome the news that a new antiseptic has been discovered that relieves the itching and soreness almost as soon as it is applied and which will soon make an absolute and thorough cure in even the worst case.

Renovo kills the antiseptic germs when applied to the diseased skin and grows new, healthy flesh that is free from soreness or eruption.

This new remedy is put up in a collapsible tube, the only package that should be used for an ointment, and a three inch tube can be obtained for 50 cents of Murray & Bitner with guarantee to refund the money if Renovo does not do all that is claimed for it.

Do not suffer longer with eczema or other skin troubles, but use this pure healing remedy and be cured.

Buy it now. Now is the time to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over. This remedy has no superior. For sale by all dealers.

ADMINISTRATRIX NOTICE.—Letters of Administration on the estate of Amelia Korman, late of Gregg Twp., deceased, having been duly granted to the undersigned, she would respectfully request all persons knowing themselves indebted to the estate to make immediate payment, and those having claims against the same to present them duly authenticated for settlement. (MRS.) BLANCHE NEES, Administratrix, Spring Mills, Pa. o.sept.14
